

The Local Authority Public Health Research Network (London and North Thames Partners) inaugural conference at the

Wellcome Collection, London NW1
26 March 2024

Public Health Research in Local Authorities: What is it? What's happening? How can it be improved?

To book your place click here

To submit abstract submissions, which close on 31 December 2023, click here

Aims of the day

- Showcasing the range of applied research and evaluation across London and North Thames
- Stands are available for members to share recent evaluation or research project updates and partners
- Developing opportunities for research collaboration across London and North Thames
- Building networks and career development opportunities for public health professionals with an interest in research

Open to those working in local authorities, academics, London and North Thames regional systems and anyone with an interest in research at a local level regardless of experience.